"HI, MOM, YOU LOOK SLEEPY," says Bobby Garcia, reunited with his mother after a four-day adventure of living by himself. Mrs. Garcia was mighty happy to see her son who ran away from home Tuesday night after a reported "disagreement with Dad." Before the police found him Saturday night, "I was going to call my mother and see if it was okay if I came home," said the youth who had not eaten for two full days. Additional picture, story on Page 2. (Desert Sun Photo)

U.S. Maps Plan To Bolster Laos Against Commies

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Top Defense and State Department officials today considered new moves to strengthen the Laotian government's hand in suppressing Communist-led rebels.

High-level conferences were being held to find ways to lend support to the royal forces.

PLANS UNDER consideration would limit the additional direct aid to more support through supplies while expanding diplomatic and moral encouragement wherever and whenever possible.

One of the possibilities is for the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization (SEATO) to exercise its previously announced plan to protect the tiny Southeast Asian nation from outside forces. Laos is not actually a member of SEATO.

DIPLOMATIC OFFICIALS believe the introduction of troops now from the outside would be premature since the royal Laotian government is not yet using all of its own forces of 25,000 men.

Authorities recognize that the Communist government of North Viet Nam has violated the 1954 Geneva agreement ending the Indo-China War by increasing the level of military equipment in the hands of Laotian rebel forces.

Viet Nam and Laos, together with Cambodia, made up what was Indo-China.

Be Nice to Nikita, Nixon Asks U. S.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. — (UPI) — Vice President Richard M. Nixon today urged the American people to give Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev a "courteous reception" when he visits the United States next month.

Nixon hit back at criticism of the Soviet leader's visit in a speech prepared for delivery at the American Legion Convention here.

Minor Collisions

Three motorists were injured — none seriously — in an equal number of desert area auto accidents over the week end.

Injured in two separate crashes at Highway 99 and Ramon Road were Stella Mae Peters, 41, of San Bernardino and Warren Bizzle, 16, of Buena Park. Thomas Houston Latta was slightly injured when his car flipped off the Palms-to-Pines Highway near Palm Desert.

CALIFORNIA Highway Patrolmen said Mrs. Peters suffered minor injuries when her car careened off Highway 99 and turned over. Officers said the woman apparently went to sleep at the wheel.

MACKKEY ASSIGNS VILLAGE NEW D.A.

District Attorney William O. Mackey said today that he has assigned two new deputies to handle prosecution of criminal cases in Palm Springs and Indio courts.

The new deputy district attorneys are Frank Travis, assigned to Palm Springs, and Floyd Merrill, who is taking over the Indio district attorney's office. Both assignments take effect Sept. 1.

TRAVIS REPLACES Leighton Nugent, deputy D.A. here for the past two years, and Merrill succeeds George Hooten, who has represented the district attorney's office in Indio for about the same period of time.

Mackey said Nugent resigned to open a private practice in Desert Hot Springs and Moorten has resigned to take over the post of public defender, recently vacated by Frank Moore. Moore is now in private practice.

A VETERAN COURT officer, Travis was Imperial County deputy district attorney at El Centro for 11 years. He joined Mackey's office last January and was assigned to Indio on a temporary basis two months ago. He is a graduate of Pacific Coast Law School.

Travis, a World War II infantry veteran, plans to take up permanent residence in Palm Springs. With his wife and two-year-old daughter.

ALSO A VETERAN prosecutor, Merrill was district attorney of Siskiyou County, at Yreka, for eight years. He has practiced law in California since his graduation from Hastings College of Law at University of California in 1930.

Merrill is currently seeking an Indio home for his wife and 11-year-old daughter.

Apparently still determined to suspend service to the Palm Springs area, Southern Pacific Railroad has notified the Board of Supervisors of its intent to seek discontinuance of operations at West Palm Springs depot.

Railroad officials filed notice with the county board that its already contested application for abandonment of the resort passenger agency is now before the Public Utilities Commission.

Action on the application was temporarily halted a few weeks ago through protest of the Palm Springs Chamber of Commerce.

The railroad based its application on a complaint that the customer load to and from Palm Springs does not warrant regular SP service here. The railroad proposes to close the agency here, servicing the resort area from its Indio depot.

THIEVES SWEATED TO GET STATUE AT VILLAGE HOME

An Italian marble statue valued at a reported $3,000 and, standing 48 inches high was chiseled off its foundation and carried away by thieves last night.

The statue, which stood in front of the home of Dr. Benjamin Goldberg, 787 Stevens Road, was set in cement.

Sgt. John Herrera, who is investigating the theft that was reported to police this morning, said it would have taken "at least two men to carry it away."

The statue weighed between 175 and 200 pounds.

Burglars Steal Guns at Center, Get Bum Ammo

Burglars broke into the Sportsman's Center here last night and got away with an estimated $500 worth of guns, ammunition and a pair of binoculars.

But the thieves will be frustrated if they try to get the ammunition they stole into the guns they took. According to Ray Elliot, owner of the store, the ammunition that was missing was not for the guns that were taken.

The thieves got four guns and numerous boxes of ammunition. This was the second burglary of the Center in the past two months.

Entry was made by breaking out a glass rear door and climbing through an 13 by 13 inch hole. A box was pushed in front of the door to hide the broken window.

Warrant Out For Arrest Of Bobby Garcia

Admitted Gambler Ordered to Appear By District Court

Gambler Bobby Garcia, the Cabazon club owner who has publicly threatened suit against The Desert Sun for publication of a state crime committee report, was today faced with his own set of legal troubles.

Palm Springs police were today handed a bench warrant for the arrest of "Robert and Doris Garcia, of 1151 San Jacinto Way," by the San Bernardino Judicial District Court.

THE WARRANT charges the Garcias with failure to comply with a civil court order, involving a default judgement against the Cabazon Club Hoop owner in January, 1958.

Court records show that Garcia was ordered to pay a judgement for $797.82 to a San Bernardino clothing store. The warrant, carrying a $25 bail fee, orders the Garcias into court to show cause why they have not complied with the judgement, according to court clerks.

The amount of the judgement, however, is substantially less than the amount Garcia has implied he would seek as damages in threatened libel actions.

GARCIA, WHO recently labeled himself as a gambler, said he will sue The Desert Sun, the Banning Record and various radio and television stations which publicized a rackets report issued by the assembly interim committee on organized crime in California.

The report linked Garcia with state vice czars and identified him as "henchman of the late Johnnie Russo," sometime vice lord of San Bernardino County; Mickey Cohen and various associates allegedly tied in with the Mafia.

DESERT SUN WILL VISIT 12 DESERT LINKS IN SERIES

The first of a series of 12 stories on Palm Springs area golf courses will be published in The Desert Sun Thursday.

Each story is to be dedicated to an individual golf club and will be accompanied by pictures of the course and the people who run it.

Changes on the courses and new personnel added during the summer months will be a major part of the series. They will also include listings of top matches for the next season at each course.

WYCKOFF LASHES City Golf Course Maintenance Job

Charges of inadequacies in the maintenance operation of the newly-purchased Palm Springs Municipal Golf Course were leveled at yesterday's luncheon session of the City Council but council members appeared generally unimpressed.

Gordon Wyckoff, recently resigned greens superintendent for the links, made sweeping charges regarding the links.

HE TOLD THE council that the operation has lacked equipment; that golf course designer Lawrence Hughes made a mistake in part of the layout; that it was ridiculous to pay Hughes $800 in consultant fees, and that "red tape" in city planning help up import emergency work on the course.

Wyckoff told the council that he was "having plenty of trouble" in preparing the course for its opening on Oct. 1, and indicated that it would be Oct. 15 or later before it could be opened for play.

"We find ourselves faced with the fact that we have to seed new lawn on the fairways. We have bermuda in now, but with the winter season upon us, it is time to plant rye."

HE ALSO LASHED out at the city for its location of the proposed clubhouse — some 250 feet from the starting green — and said he didn't think the course could open without toilet facilities and a clubhouse.

The council was very understanding at the sudden exposure of city shortcomings, and attempted to smooth it over.

Ike's German Tour to Seek West Unity

President 'Hopeful' He'll Work Out Negotiation Grounds

By MERRIMAN SMITH

WASHINGTON — (UPI) — President Eisenhower, on the eve of his departure for Western Europe, said today he hoped that he and allied leaders would join in a mutual statement of readiness to negotiate with Russia, but in firm determination never to retreat from their basic principles.

Eisenhower told a news conference he also would suggest to the heads of West Germany, Great Britain, France and Italy that they cooperate in helping advance the health and living standards of the two billion people of the new or underdeveloped nations.

THE CHIEF EXECUTIVE, meeting with reporters before taking off by jet plane early Wednesday for Bonn, Germany, also made these other outstanding points:

—He said this government has under immediate, urgent study a request for the government of Laos for new funds with which to fight hordes of Communist forces.

—HE SAID THE Russian government notified him Monday night that Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev will be coming to the United States next month as chief of the Russian state. Therefore, the President said he planned to welcome Khrushchev personally at the airport on his arrival and entertain him at dinner at the White House.

—Without calling him by name, Eisenhower struck back forcefully at former President Harry S. Truman who criticized the chief executive's planned trip to Russia this fall.

EISENHOWER SAID he was getting weary of people speaking about blows to presidential prestige at a time when he was giving his last atom of energy for the whole human race.

In Bonn, Germany, West German leaders today were preparing a tumultuous welcome for President Eisenhower when he arrives here Wednesday on a visit they hailed as a demonstration of U. S. determination to defend West Germany's interests in his talks with the Soviet Union.

Beebe Issues Bitter Blast Over Desert Sun Survey

by FRED C. WEIGEL

Palm Springs City Council yesterday ordered an "Iron Curtain" censorship drawn between city employees and the press in its attempts to silence a smouldering unrest among city workers over the city's "second class" salary schedules.

Four members of the council have turned thumbs down on a proposed salary scale quiz by The Desert Sun among employees of the city, but one councilman agreed that the poll might aid betterment of relations with the city's working staff.

CITY MANAGER Dan Wagner took an evasive attitude today when asked if he was going to issue a memo to city employees "asking them not to talk with the press until we have a chance to go ahead with the survey in late September," and said that he "didn't remember" the council asking for it.

"I may have been talking when I should have been listening," he admitted.

On the release of a written statement by Wagner yesterday, to be found in another column in today's Desert Sun, council members attempted to stop Wagner from elaborating on it. Wagner said he believed that it was "too important to dismiss."

FINANCE DIRECTOR Shelby Langford said one Desert Sun article which gave a breakdown of other salaries throughout Southern California placed the paper in a specialized field. An amateur shouldn't get into it," he said.

Left un-noted at the Council conference meeting Monday, was the fact that The Desert Sun survey, although compiled by the newspaper, was gathered from "specialists" in municipal administration.

Councilman George Beebe, Jr., led the attack on The Desert Sun for its series on local city salaries said:

"I think you have stirred up a hornet's nest. I don't think local city salaries are low."

CHALLENGING THE Beebe stand was Vice Mayor Ted McKinney.

"I don't like the headlines," he said, "but I have to agree that we have good reason for this State Personnel survey — the salaries are low."

Of all the councilmen present at the meeting, Councilman Leonard Wolf was the only one who indicated that the survey might have merit.

"I would just like to see the questionnaire before it is sent to employees."

Councilwoman Ruth Hardy, who said the survey "might stir up further trouble," added that the city had appropriated $1,200 for a survey by the State Personnel Board.

"We're well on the way and doing alright, so let's go ahead."

THE CITY OF PALM SPRINGS, in two years, has spent some $2,000 for State Personnel Board surveys. For this money, they have received the pay scale setup that the city is currently using.

City personnel have criticized the surveys as "not realistic."

The surveys, they said, "have effected only specific personnel in city departments."

BEEBE ALSO HIT at the employees who were "talking" to The Desert Sun, and said "if they have any squeak to make they should come to us with it."

"I have a lot of respect for the Desert Sun's championing of the cause for city employees, but believe it was too soon," Beebe added.

RUNAWAY YOUTH TELLS OF ORDEAL

"I wanted to see what it was like to run away from home."

Robert Anthony (Bobby) Dollar, 12-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Dollar, told police Saturday night that he had spent four days of "roaming around" in the city of Palm Springs.

SUPPORTED by friends and pursued by police, Bobby related a story so fantastic that veteran Detective L.A. Robert White said he'd never heard a story like it.

Last Wednesday night the youth packed his personal belongings into his newspaper route bags and disappeared.

On Saturday night, at about 6 p.m. Bobby was spotted by Mrs. M. G. Maloof, of 683 Thornwall, trying to get into a home next door to her. She called the police, and her action brought to an end one of the city's longest and most intense searches.

BOBBY WAS brought to the police station Saturday evening by officer Herb Shalies and — tired and hungry — he related his experiences during the four days that preceded his discovery — a discovery that he was not sure he wanted made.

White was called from home. He settled Bobby down in his office with a hamburger and a chocolate milk shake, and listened while Bobby told his story.

THE RUNAWAY told how he had hidden his bike behind the burro train shack, cached his extra clothing in plants behind the Palm Springs Landscaping Company and — ready for his new living and layout work for the golf committee.

FUND TRANSFER: From General Fund, Property Tax, to General Fund, Unapplied Reserve, the sum of $19,000, made possible by the increased assessed valuation from the estimated $63,500,000 to $64,778,510.

life — went to the movies. He told of staying overnight with a friend, he wandered about Palm Springs throughout Thursday — miraculously escaping detection from Village police who were armed with his description.

He went to the Polo Grounds to watch a softball game Thursday night and it was there he was spotted and an alarm given.

BOBBY TOLD HOW he eluded two cars of police by simply going to the rear of the Palm Springs Boys' Club where he crawled into a bus and went to sleep.

He showered Friday morning and changed clothes near the Biltmore Hotel, then went to Ramon Trailer Park where he washed his dirty clothing and left it to dry. Hungry, he entered the home of Dr. Darrell Smith at 666 Thornwall where he helped himself to a bowl of cornflakes and settled down to watch TV for an "hour or so."

BY SATURDAY, the youngster was beginning to realize the loneliness of his fugitive existence and related that he spent most of the day "trying to make up my mind if I should go home."

He decided to telephone his mother to find out if it would be all right for him to return to the home he had forsaken and it was then that Mrs. Maloof spotted him re-entering Dr. Smith's home.

BOBBY HAD JUST four cents in his jeans when he arrived at the police station Saturday night. "I thought I might go to San Bernardino and hitchhike to Arrowhead," he told White. "I was going to get a job."

His mother patted him on the shoulder. "He's got a job," she said. "He's going to stay home."

Coed's Killer Said 'Beatnik' By L.A. Police

Fiance's Apartment
Scene of Late-Hour
Parties, Officers Told

LOS ANGELES — (UPI) — A homicide detective said today he believed the killer of an attractive University of Southern California coed was a frequent guest at "beatnik-type parties" in the apartment where the slaying occurred.

The detective described the apartment where Linda Edna Martin, 21, was murdered as "the campus beatnik center of the university."

"I HAVE A BUNCH of suspects who attended parties there lined up for questioning today," said the detective, who asked that his name be withheld.

Miss Martin was found nude and dying of stab wounds Sunday night in the apartment of her fiance, Glenn Kinzie, 27, a graduate art student of USC. Kinzie sports the badge of the beatnik — a beard.

THE DETECTIVE told James McNamara, news chief of Los Angeles radio station KLAC, that former tenants of Kinzie's apartment house told him frequent parties were held in the Kinzie apartment.

"The former residents described the parties to me as 'beatnik-type' parties," the detective said. "They featured loud music, late hours and men and women who call themselves artists."

State Stalls Road Bypass For Beaumont

Federal Stoppage Blamed for Slash In State Projects

SACRAMENTO — (UPI) — The state has halted more than 40 per cent of its contracts for the 1959-60 budget because of the threat that Congress may not appropriate federal funds.

Part of this stoppage was seen in the proposed grading, paving and structure construction for the six-lane freeway bypass on U. S. Highway 70-99 in Beaumont to a half mile east of 22nd Street in Banning.

THE PRICE OF the job was estimated at $6,500,000.

A total of 241 million dollars in contracts were halted by the order issued by Robert B. Bradford, state director of public works. He said the projects are "in jeopardy" because of the slow-down or stoppage of the federal highway program.

State Highway Engineer George T. McCoy said he had been informed by the U. S. Bureau of Public Roads that beginning some time this fall federal aid for highways would be stopped unless Congress takes some action to increase the money available.

HE SAID, HOWEVER, that the state will proceed with projects already under way and on purchases of right of way.

Meanwhile in Washington the House Public Works Committee rejected a plan Wednesday calling for a drastic cutback in the construction scheduled for the 41,000-mile network of interstate highways.

It came up instead with a plan for a more moderate stretch-out of the program to help meet the highway financing crisis.

THE COMMITTEE made no recommendations for raising extra money needed to beef up the highway trust fund even if the moderate stretch-out were put into effect.

Thus, it tossed the ball back to the House Ways and Means Committee, which technically has the responsibility of finding revenue for the highway fund.

The Ways and Means Committee last week rejected President Eisenhower's request for a 1½ cent increase in federal gasoline taxes and recommended this two-part plan to solve the money muddle:

—ISSUANCE OF one billion dollars in new revenue bonds to get over the immediate financing "hump."

—Stretching out over all construction of the highways to meet the long range problem of how to keep the program in the black.

The Ways and Means Committee plan called for slashing apportionments to the state beginning next July 1. This would be cut to 600 million dollars, compared with the $2,500,000,000 in present law.

There would be corresponding cutbacks in apportionments for future years.

But the Public Works Committee recommended that next year's apportionment be scaled down to $2,200,000,000 and apportionments for the following 11 years be fixed at the same amount.

"Law In Action"

U.S. Constitution Rarely Argued

Strangely enough there are parts of the U. S. Constitution upon which our courts rarely comment.

Are they dead letter? No; most scholars think some of them are so clear and reasonable that nobody needs to challenge them. The Ninth Amendment, for example, says:

"The enumeration in the Constitution of certain rights shall not be construed to deny or disparage others retained by the people."

No constitution has set out your right to marry, for example, yet you have it just the same. When courts reaffirm such a right, they often do so on the basis of some of the "enumerated" rights.

Thus in 1948 the California Supreme Court nullified our "miscegenation" law which barred certain inter-racial marriages. Eleven years later the Legislature took the law off the books where it had been for several generations.

To marry a person of one's own choice, the court held, is an essential right of free men and women. Law makers should not, the court said, prohibit marriage except for the most weighty purposes and by reasonable means: Bans on inter-racial marriages serve no such purposes.

But the state may regulate marriage. It sets the age when one may marry and the grounds for divorce or annulment; and it may outlaw bigamy, incest, and polygamy.

SMITHSONIAN NIXES PLASTER CAST OF DURANTE'S SCHNOZ

HOLLYWOOD — (UPI) — The Smithsonian Institution in Washington, D. C., apparently has slammed the door on comedian Jimmy Durante's outsized nose.

Durante said he had received word Friday that the institute won't accept a plaster cast of his famed proboscis.

"I took 'em at their word. Everything was done in good faith (faith). But now they don't want Durante's nose to get into the act," said the comedian, flapping his arms in exasperation as he described a proposal that a plaster cast be made of the nose as an addition to the institute's anthropology exhibit.

"My nose ain't never been snubbed before," Durante snorted. "It's mortifying. Maybe a fellow Californian like Vice President Nixon could help."

Legion to Block California Blast At Cinema Reds

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (UPI) — A move is underway here in preliminary sessions to the national American Legion convention this week to block consideration of California resolutions condemning the motion picture industry for rehiring known Communists.

James F. Daniel Jr., South Carolina, chairman of the Legion's Americanism Commission, said the California resolutions were too general and should either be amended or postponed.

Ben Kahane, vice-president of Columbia Pictures and of the Association of Motion Picture Producers, told the commission only four persons, among the couple of hundred names by the Legion in 1955 as on the Un-American Activities Committee's list of suspected subversives, now work for the industry.

He said the industry is anxious to keep Communists out, and is checking for the industry.

He said any criticism should be specific, and not aimed at the entire industry.

McElroy Censors Critical Book

WASHINGTON — (UPI) — Defense Secretary Neil H. McElroy has stopped publication of a book by Gen. Thomas S. Power about the Strategic Air Command on grounds it would be "inappropriate."

Power, commander of SAC, outlined in his manuscript the role of the big bomber force in preventing war and raised possibly controversial questions about future command changes needed in the nation's strategic striking forces.

Rowan, Martin Give Views On 'Sick' Comedians, Fans

By VERNON SCOTT

HOLLYWOOD — (UPI) — "Sick" comedians were scrutinized this week by the comedy team of Rowan and Martin, who played a 10-day smash engagement in the Chi Chi last season.

They decided the audiences are sicker than the sickniks.

"It's a cult that's grown up in a few big cities," Dick Martin suggested. "Most of the sick comedians depend on the same people returning night after night to hear their gags. The nightclubbers who follow them round are real addicts."

"THE SICK ONES would never be popular on television," Dan Rowan said. "Their material is too far out."

"That's why they're popular in clubs," Dick said. "They can get away with controversial and spicy jokes with a limited audience—and use terms the average televisioner doesn't comprehend."

"They never get a laugh in real joints because the audience doesn't know what they're talking about."

THE COMEDY TEAM, who appear in movies, TV and clubs have no "sick" routine themselves, but study the off-beat competition closely.

"Sophisticates — or pseudo sophisticates — are flattered by the sickniks because the comedians throw around psychological terms and other words that aren't usually identified with entertainers," said Dan.

"But even without censorship, mass audiences would never dig the humor. In fact, most of the country would be offended by the new group."

AMONG THE SICKNIKS named by the boys were Lenny Bruce, Don Rickles, Shelley Berman and Tom Lehrer. Mort Sahl, who specializes in political berbs, isn't considered a sicknik by his cohorts.

"Their jokes are based on tragedy," Rowan went on. "Death, illness, religion and such things as lynchings make up the subject matter."

"Shock value is what they're looking for. And as audiences become more and more difficult to shock, their jokes keep getting more and more sick. The laughs they get are usually somewhat nervous."

ROWAN AND MARTIN, scheduled to return to the Chi Chi's Starlite Room this season, insist the sickniks must play small, intimate rooms to be successful.

"Comedians like to watch the sick ones perform," Dick said. "Most comedians would love to get away with some of their routines, but television is so closely censored comedians are limited to old, dull stuff."

"Right," Dan agreed. "You can't hope to be a success on TV unless you're really mediocre. There are so many taboos by pressure groups and sponsors we have to stay with bland, innocuous material."

"I WISH I HAD a dollar for every person who has come up to us after our nightclub act and asked why we aren't as funny on TV."

"It's not that we use off-color jokes in clubs," Dick concluded. "But we can mention a product or controversial subject without having to worry about ad agency guys or network big shots. That's something the sickniks never have to put up with."

Dear Abby...

...by Abigail VanBuren

DEAR ABBY: Is there any help for us Grandmas? I raised eight children. My youngest is 14. My children keep sending me their kids for vacations. It makes no difference how I am feeling or what I have to do.

This year I turned over a new leaf. One daughter-in-law wrote that she was sending me all seven of her kids for 3 weeks. I wrote back, "Oh, no you aren't. You have a mother and 3 sisters. I will take part of them but not all seven at once."

My daughter lives in another state. She called asking me to take her 5 for all summer. I said, "I took care of kids for 35 years and I am tired. Take care of your own kids."

My husband says I am a very mean person and will not go to heaven. Am I wrong?

TIERED GRANDMA
DEAR GRANDMA: You are certainly NOT wrong. There is nothing "mean" about your refusal to let others take advantage of you. You've earned your retirement. Don't worry. Grandma, you'll get to heaven all right. But there's no sense in rushing.

DEAR ABBY: I am a teen-ager. I have already had my polio shots and my mother, who is 33, has taken hers, too. But my father said he wasn't going to take any because polio does not strike people after their late thirties.

Is he right about this or not? I think I read where a man 42 years old got polio.

WORRIED ABOUT DAD
DEAR WORRIED: Your father is mistaken. Polio has stricken thousands of adults in their thirties, forties and even fifties. Tell your Dad if he loves his family he will get his polio shots immediately.

Paving Of Tahquitz Drive Marks 1959 As Year Of Civic Improvement

With work scheduled to start September 1st there is an excellent possibility that Palm Springs will yet have an opportunity to enjoy its most important civic improvement in many years before the close of 1959.

Final letting of the contract by the City Council for the paving of Tahquitz Drive across the one mile strip between Indian Avenue and Sunset Way will bring more benefits to residents, both within and without the City proper, than any other single community achievement in recent times.

Opening of this broad, attractive, double arterial through the center of Section 14 will break forever the traffic bottleneck which has existed for so many years on both Palm Canyon Drive and Indian Avenue. Both of these excellent thoroughfares will thus be permanently relieved of the former heavy loads of "doubling back" traffic caused by compulsory circling of Section 14 for many thousands of local drivers daily. This "useless" and soon no longer necessary traveling accounted for approximately half the volume on the two principal business streets.

Of equally great importance, the new shorter route direct from the center of the business district to the civic center will bring all sections of the City, both commercial and residential, much closer to each other. This also applies to residents of many areas outside the City Limits who likewise will be provided with a shorter, easier and faster means of access to and from the center of Palm Springs.

It also follows that the development of Tahquitz Drive itself will be of immense benefit and importance to the general improvement of all of Section 14, which is long overdue and a pressing necessity to the continuance of the sound and well balanced progress of the entire community.

All will hope that everything proceeds on or ahead of schedule on the Tahquitz paving project and that its opening dedication takes place before the year's end to mark 1959 as a calendar period long to be remembered with grateful appreciation.

Fulbright On Foreign Policy

WASHINGTON, D. C. — Back in the days when the USA had a monopoly on the atomic bomb, an unknown but very opinionated first-term Senator from Arkansas was preaching something close to preventive war. He felt, as Chairman of Foreign Relations, that the policy might be right for the time.

Today Senator J. William Fulbright holds the same moral, unflinching, unsentimental stethoscope to the heart of international affairs. He tries to find out what the situation truthfully is. After that — whatever works is right.

THIS IS NOT, I hope, too bald a translation of the Fulbright creed. He is a real politician beyond anybody else in the Senate and perhaps in public life. Fulbright felt he had an imperative self-interest in 1945-49 to take full advantage of the then-ultimate weapon. Had we destroyed or disarmed Russia — as we had the power to do — we might have forestalled the Cold War and possibly insured American supremacy for as far as prophecy can envision.

In contrast, today's nuclear stand-off with Russia does not make sword-rattling a very practical policy. Earlier this year, shortly after he took over the Foreign Relations chairmanship from Senator Green, Fulbright rose on the Senate floor to rebuke two other Senators who were threatening to fight Khrushchev over Berlin.

"I was trying to quiet them down," Fulbright recalls. "We have to face facts — there is no possibility of leading the American people into a war today — even if it were the thing to do."

FULBRIGHT'S REALISM often puts him in the unorthodox Democratic position of pushing a Republican foreign policy in which he doesn't fully believe. Eisenhower is the only President we have, and as Fulbright sees it, party line opposition could wholly thwart the national foreign policy. There are a lot of things in the President's leadership which Fulbright wishes were otherwise. The Senator believes, for example, that the emphasis on military aid is too great, that it is forcing an arms race with the Communists, it weakens American leadership in such fields as education and trade.

But the best Pentagon witnesses say the military dollar lasts longest when arming South Koreans and Turks. So, Fulbright finds himself leading a fight to give the Eisenhower Administration what it demands. "I help the President all I can, except in special cases. If I ever come to feel very strongly against his policy as a whole, I'd get off the committee. But in a divided Government and especially on foreign policy, I just don't believe we can adopt Bob Taft's theory that the business of the opposition is to oppose."

FULBRIGHT HAS GLOOMY premonitions about the political wisdom of supporting the Republican Administration which, he feels, will get credit for a lot of Democratic work. He receives letters from Arkansas urging him to vote with his senior colleague, John McClellan, against overseas spending. It might be popular in Arkansas, but Fulbright regards it as wholly irresponsible for a man in his position to frustrate the only foreign policy which the Constitution permits — the President's own.

In point of fact, Fulbright seems to care as little about popularity as a politician can. He takes positions which are too intellectual to lend themselves to readily understandable explanation. During the key vote on the Lewis Strauss confirmation, Senators were being huddled cross-country in military jets so as to vote either Yea or Nay. But Fulbright, scornful of the either-or-position, decided on another — he absented himself from the roll call.

AS AN OPPOSITION Senator, he would dispute with the late Secretary Dulles on policy, and several times he has opposed President Eisenhower's nominees for overseas posts. This might pass for normal Democratic procedure if Fulbright didn't so often explain that he was voting principle, not politics. He recalls in public that he also opposed Secretary Acheson on a key phase of the Marshall plan and that he voted against President Truman's nominees when they seemed unfit for their posts.

Of the Foreign Relations chairmen since World War II (Vandenberg, Wiley, Connally, George, Green) Fulbright is not the most colorful, nor the most popular, nor the most revered, nor as yet, the most famous. But he is making a record which seems to say, "I'd rather be right . . ." and that is distinction enough.

There Is That Aspect

This Side of The Sun

Now the dames don't flick—
As they deodorize,
Not a wave as they

That maddening wobble
No more ruins the eyes,
The TV man has been here.

After some debate on the topic:

"Resolved, that the class of television programs these days is not worth a repair bill," the negative, supported by me, won. I was the judge.

THEN THERE was a discussion period. This had to do with the working of the question and by negative, did I mean:

(a) No, they aren't worth it, or
(b) With that "not" in the question, was my "no" a double negative. Meaning "yes"?
(c) Therefore, either way you looked at it, I was against looking up: "Television, sales and service" as she was.

SO THERE was a compromise. My decision was reversed and the affirmative was awarded the victory by 2 to 0.

So I went back to Perry Mason and Mrs. G. went to the telephone and called: TV, Sales and Service.

Told the man in ladylike language, our trouble.
He interpreted her words as "get the hell up here fast" which he did.

AFTER HE HAD littered up the living room with mirrors, so he could see what he was doing from the back of the set, and scattered repair kits, he plucked out a bushel of tubes and thrust in new ones. Then he said:

"There, now, that ought to work."

And left, after presenting a bill comparing favorably with the cost of a week of carousing in Palm Springs.

Well, maybe not that much. But enough to last me three days at Del Mar.

THAT WAS on Wednesday. All was well until just after the 6 p.m. news.

"Why is the set turned off?" I was asked. "Don't you want to see the light?"

"Blackout," I said, it being the night of the Moore-Bassey set-to.

She uttered an exasperated sound which I lost, listening to the Giant-Brave game.

NEXT MORNING I came into the room and there was the TV man again, mirror, repair kits, tubes and all.

"Seems to be all right," he said, after peering into the back-side of the set. So he gathered up the mess and left.

"Nice man," I said, "to come back and check on his work."

"I called him, she said."

"Why?"

"Well, you said last night the fight was blacked out."

WELL, ANYWAY, we now get a perfect picture of the girls using the right soap in washing machines and on the deodorant that lasts from bath to bath, the tooth paste that leaves your breath as pure as the green forest in which the boy and girl light up cigarettes while Smokey Bear glowers.

How are you fixed for blades?

STAN DELAPLANE'S Postcard

The sun shines bright on Normandie. (This morning I called TWA in Paris and extended my home flight reservations. THIS is no time to go home.)

The sun pours through the French window with its flower box of pink petunias. Denise brings the morning papers and the coffee. The flaky croissants. A pot of butter, a pot of thick Normandy cream, a pot of wild strawberry jam.

"Vous etes content?"
"Very contented, honey chile." I swing with these French cats. Man alive, yes.

WE ARE CLOSE to the posh resort of Deauville. It has a gambling casino so elegant you must put on a dinner jacket after 10 p. m. (A good deal like Bugsy Siegel tried to do with the Flamingo at Las Vegas.)

They do not open the casino until 3 in the afternoon. It is a handsome white building with the French flag flying over it. Gambling here is under the direction of the Finance Ministry.

It is flanked by the Hotel Royal and the rambling, Norman-style Normandie. The gates are guarded by uniformed lackeys and—they'd never believe this in Nevada—you must pay to get in.

ONCE YOU ARE in, the action is very gentlemanly. It is mainly roulette—a kind of rich man's bingo because there is only one wheel for a dozen tables. You don't see the ball. They just call off the numbers.

However, it is the playground of the International Set. And I have been mousing around it, hoping to be mistaken for Farouk or Aly Khan or Rubirosa.

The bets are limited to 10,000 francs, $20 U. S. I simply cannot figure the odds it is a queer roulette table. But I think the odds are bad. They usually are in roulette.

ANYWAY, I LAID a few thousand on number 7 and watched the boy rake it in with a silver rake. Then I went out in the garden to toast myself.

The Deauville Casino maintains an excellent shooting garden. Boxed hedges and formal layouts of flowers—things like that. I mean when you lose the family chateau and do the Dutch here, you do it in style.

The Casino is surrounded with all the better shops: Hermes, Nina Ricci, Jacques Heim.

DIRECTLY ACROSS the street is the famous jewelry firm of Van Cleef and Arpels. I understand that Van Cleef and Arpels will run you up a jeweled deringer if your luck runs badly.

However, they were closed when I got there. And I don't know whether I am allowed to shoot myself without a dinner jacket. Probably not. It is extremely difficult to run around with the International Set unless you know the ground rules.

In the morning, we Setters set around the boardwalk on the ocean front and gander the other Setters.

The Setters with season setting tickets, set themselves under umbrellas marked "Privee" (it means private, squares). It also implores you to keep your dog on a leash.

I HAVE NO DOG, curse the luck. My Dog, Inc., the world's only incorporated dog, could cut a financial figure here. But somebody kidnapped him at home.

The best dogs to keep on the beach on a leash are odd dogs. Woolly-Afghans, greyhounds, clipped poodles. There are tables on the boardwalk. And you take your dog to a table and get him a comfortable chair and feed him sated almonds which are brought around by a uniformed waiter.

We engaged only one lady in conversation. She was the only one around who spoke English and she turned out to be Gloria Swanson's daughter and is married to a famous French movie producer.

SHE SAID THE ACTION consisted mainly of running from your villa to somebody else's villa for this season. Until the Venice season. Where you run around from your film festival to somebody else's film festival.

And though she really tried to help me, what can you do when you have no villa? And no dog? And Van Cleef and Arpels is closed. But I was never really IN. You know what I mean?

NEW YORK—A woman I know is thinking of writing a book called "I Married a Soap-Lifter." Her husband is also a match-dropper. He likes to pluck a small box of matches from his pocket and say, "Where did THESE matches come from? Oh yes—from the Tanager Hotel in Caracas. I was there last week."

I devote my invaluable space to this type of fellow because he is a product of the new leisure, the new tourism. He is a brilliant executive when on the job, but when vacationing, he never worries about the H-Bomb or about Khrushchev — he is only alarmed that the world is going to run out of soap next Saturday night and that he has got to pilfer all possible sample cakes out of the lavatories in the airplane because next Saturday night he might be dirty.

"El Soapo" carries around as much soap as he does matches. I often wondered what Soapy does with all the matches, then I found the answer.

He smokes them. Some people smoke cigarettes but El Matcho smokes matches. He lights matches off his cigarettes. He'd walk a mile for a match. He switched to king-size filter matches months ago.

Anybody who prevents him from stealing soap samples or cornering the match market he considers a Communist.

On a recent trip to Venezuela, El Soapy thought that a woman at a cigar counter was overcharging him on those small boxes of matches. He asserted categorically that she was anti-American and that is was probably a personal slap at Richard Nixon.

The embarrassing thing was that he doesn't like Nixon either. That day he was terribly confused — he didn't know who to hate.

He eventually bought enough matches. In fact, he had matches to burn — but they wouldn't. They were too soapy.

This fellow is perfectly harmless. He's just on vacation, and you may observe him doing other strange things, such as drinking five Tom Collinses right after his morning oatmeal. It's that bad oatmeal they give you outside New York that did it . . .

Heat Hampered British in Revolution

To the British soldiers in the Revolution, one of the greatest hardships of the whole war was the heat of the American summer. While doing research for "Celia Garth," (published May 20) Gwen Bristow, the author of this continuing best seller on the Crowell list, reports:

"I found their complaints about the hot weather still echoing through the years."

SOMETIMES THE HEAT caused real tragedies. At the battle of Monmouth, New Jersey, fought June 28, 1778, the temperature was 96, and sixty British soldiers died of sunstroke.

Most of these men had never felt any really hot weather before. In July, hottest month of the year, the average temperature on the south coast of England is only 62. But in New York the average this time of year is 74, in Charleston 80.

IN THIS COUNTRY we often have heat waves when the temperature goes over 90, while in Britain they almost never have such extreme heat.

And as if they wanted to make the men as miserable as possible, the British supply officers sent them over here with wollen uniforms for the year round. Those famous red coats of the British army were fine for winter. But imagine having to wear one, closely belted and buttoned, on the Fourth of July!

Even Men Didn't Buy Stuff Made From Kim's Bedsheets

By RICK DU BROW
HOLLYWOOD UP — Neckties made out of Kim Novak's lavender bed sheets are not selling very well, a neckwear manufacturer reported today.

Manufacturer Beall Ernst, San Francisco, who obtained the frilly bed clothes in an auction, said he was stuck with about half of the 200 ties he fashioned from them.

"We used to sell them for $10 apiece," he lamented to United Press International. "But now we've dropped them into our $3.50 class."

Ernst, 45, explained that he gained possession of the collector's items when Miss Novak was making the film "Vertigo" in San Francisco.

"She stayed at the Clift Hotel," he said, "and being the personality she is, she demanded lavender sheets and that the whole room be done over in lavender."

"At the end of her stay, she put her lipstick marks on a couple of spots, and the hotel donated three sheets and two pillow cases to the Chamber of Commerce. The chamber gave them to an educational TV station in auction off."

The bids went up and up. "And then," said Ernst, "I noticed that a fraternity at Stanford was bidding so it could rent the sheets to other young men who apparently wanted to be near them."

Ernst figured if the boys wanted to be near the sheets so badly, he could sell neckties made out of them. He bid $200 for the five items.

"There were higher bids," he said. "But all from drunks who called from bars, so I got them."

He immediately called Hollywood and got some special labels saying, "Made from sheets slept in by Kim Novak." He said some times embroidered with, "Kim Novak slept here." The first dozen ties went for $25 apiece.

"Then," he said, "we set the price at $10 because I felt it would be an insult to Miss Novak to sell them for less. We wrapped the ties in deluxe boxes, enclosed pictures of Miss Novak and scented the ties with ologne. But business has been disappointing, and we've cut out the pictures and ologne."

"Our best customers are doctors. They've bought about three dozen ties. High-powered salesmen come next. We sold some to young girls for father's day gifts. And we've sold some to older girls who just said they wanted them for their daddies."

Here's Clue for Housewife Bent on Dyeing Dead Horse

NEW YORK, N. Y. — What can be done when a stuffed horse begins to fade?

General Sherman's horse did, and its owner, the Smithsonian Institution, restored the charger's jet-black coat with a bath in animal dye.

Chemical Week, McGraw-Hill publication, reports this is only one of the thousands of odd cleaning and preserving problems that confront the Smithsonian's 83 curators while caring for the 51 million separate items in their collections.

They use 2,500 pounds of naphthalene a year to preserve the museum's 13,600,000 insect specimens. Bags of the mothproofers are hidden inside the uniforms of George Washington, Thomas Jefferson and all the gowns in the First Ladies' Hall.

Some 3,000 gallons of alcohol go into the air-tight jars containing 1,700,000 fish, 147,000 reptiles and 1,600,000 marine invertebrates.

One delicate task — dissolving three tons of rock each year to release imbedded fossil specimens — is done with 650 gallons of hydrochloric acid, plus large doses of hydrofluoric acid, gasoline, hydrogen peroxide and oxalic acid.

The original copy of the Star-Spangled Banner is never washed by the Smithsonian. It is vacuum-ed instead through a fine plastic screen to avoid weakening its fibers.

The most dramatic new exhibit now under preparation is a full scale, 97-foot-long blue whale being built out of a plastic — polyester resin — and fiber glass.

RAILWAYS YANKING SERVICES ON 'NON-PROFIT' U.S. ROUTES

By HELEN THOMAS

WASHINGTON — (UPI) — The nation's railroads are dropping unprofitable passenger trains as fast as they can.

On the local scene, Southern Pacific authorities said that their would be no changes in the local passenger train service with the exception of going on to Daylight Savings time on Sept. 27.

The three local service trains are the Sunset, Golden State, and Imperial.

AN INTERSTATE Commerce Commission (ICC) survey showed today that the railroads have discontinued 41 passenger trains since an administrative short cut was approved by Congress one year ago.

In addition, the lines have started proceedings to eliminate 60 more interstate passenger run and 40 interstate trains.

THE ICC ALSO gave railroads permission to abandon 4,664 miles of track from 1954 to the start of this year.

The trend appeared to bear out a warning by ICC examiner Howard Hosmer that inter-city passenger train service would be dead by 1970 if railroads continued their current practices.

The flood of discontinued trains followed approval of the 1958 Transportation Act which eliminated the previous regulatory re tape surrounding route abandonments.

UNDER THE ACT, a railroad must give 30-days notice of plans to abandon passenger trains. The ICC then has 20 days to block the proposal by suspending the discontinuance for four months pending an investigation.

'DEEP-DOWN' BOAT RACE PACES SOUTHLAND ACTION

The "world's deepest down boat race" and Palm Wells' Cactus Day programs head the roster of Southern California recreational activities posted for the month of September by the All-Year Club.

In other areas of the Southland, September is packed with colorful and unusual events ranging from a scheduled stagecoach robbery, the "biggest of county fairs," a race of hot-rod tractors and a gathering of hundreds of pairs of identical twins.

THESE ARE A FEW of the highpoints listed in the monthly calendar issued today by the All-Year Club, which attracts a corps of out-of-state residents who spend more than half-a-billion dollars in the Southland every year.

Scheduled for Sept. 25 and 27, the "world's deepest down boat race" unfolds on the waters of the Salton Sea, some 244 feet below sea level. The 19th annual International Regatta is expected to draw some 150 inboard hydroplanes, many of them world record holders. North Shore Marina Yacht Club is regatta headquarters.

PALM WELLS ON the high desert opens its portals for its annual Cactus Day. On Sept. 5, prizes will be awarded for cactus displays and a special cactus garden, expected to become one of the finest in the country, will be dedicated.

The seeing - double day is Sept. 6 when the 22nd annual Twinrama draws some 350 sets of twins to Huntington Beach for a twin talent show, twin parade and prizes for oldest, youngest, prettiest, most freckled twins.

The Los Angeles County Fair, biggest and most beautiful county fair in America, opens Sept. 18 at Pomona to last until Oct. 4.

AT LANCASTER the Antelope Valley Fair and Alfalfa Festival will be held Sept. 10-13 with the famed Rural Olympics on the 12th when ranchers and their wives compete in tractor races, hay baling contests, truck backing contests.

San Diego holds its second annual Fiesta del Pacifico Sept. 4-19, two weeks of parades, balls, Navy open house, street dances, and special days, celebrating the Spanish heritage of the city "where California began."

For the 35th year La Fiesta de San Gabriel will be held Sept. 4-7 commemorating the 188th birthday of the old mission which founded the pueblo of Los Angeles. The Grand Parade on the 5th brings out some of the most beautiful of Spanish costumes and horse trappings.

SOME 200 EXPERT surfboard riders are expected to compete in the West Coast Championships at Huntington Beach the morning of Sept. 20. There will be prizes for boys, men, women, and mixed tandem. Surfers must ride at least three waves.

Another brand of water athletes, some 40 of them, will compete in the Grand National Water Ski Race from Long Beach to Avalon and back, about 58 miles, on Sept. 27, towed behind fast motorboats in sheets of spray.

The "Indianapolis classic" of motorboating, the Needles Colorado River Marathon, will be held Sept. 27, the fast boats streaking 115 miles on the tricky stream from Needles to Parker and return. Mohave Indians will be in a day-before-the-race parade.

THE STAGECOACH robbery will erupt, with six-guns popping, at 3:25 p.m., on the 26th, according to the schedule of the Apple Valley Pow-wow Sept. 26 - 27. Apple Valley is astride one of the old Western stage routes.

Mojave holds a truck rodeo, parade and home-cooked chicken dinner for hundreds during its Gold Rush Days Sept. 17-20.

Indians from the nearby reservation will enter a unique float in the parade during Bishop's Homecoming and Labor Day Celebration Sept. 5-7.

Avalon begins its annual Indian Summer celebrations Sept. 15, residents lighting night beach fires and serving wild goat and boar to all, with dances and singing and bayrides, Saturday nights until Oct. 22.

CHISOX GAIN GAME

Hodges Leads L.A. To Win Over Phils

United Press International
Gil Hodges is bashing that ball again, and this is one "nice guy" who could make the Los Angeles finish first.

With husky Hodges out of the regular lineup from July 23 to Aug. 29 with a severe ankle sprain, the Dodgers dropped from 1 1/2 games back of league-leading San Francisco to 4 1/2 games behind. But the one-time hero of Brooklyn is back now, and the Dodgers are starting to move upward.

HODGES STOLE the show even from star-out pitcher Sandy Kousser Monday night when he drove in five runs to lead the Dodgers to an 8-2 win over the Philadelphia Phils.

It was a mighty big win for the Bums, because it snapped a three-game losing streak that had imperiled their pennant hopes, it boosted them into second place ahead of the Milwaukee Braves, and it moved them within 3 1/2 games of the Giants.

THE STAGE WAS set for Los Angeles to move up when Bob Friend of the Pittsburgh Pirates blanked the Giants, 6-0, on 12 hits and young Bob Anderson of the Chicago Cubs blanked the Braves, 3-0, on six hits in the only other games played in the National League Monday.

In the only American League games, the Chicago White Sox boosted their league lead over idle Cleveland to two games by beating the New York Yankees, 4-2, and the Baltimore Orioles crushed Detroit, 11-0.

First Title Game Ends in Rhubarb

Ump Changes Crucial Decision; Mexican Colony Wins in Eighth

A umpire switched his decision on a crucial play in last night's initial game of the Southern California Municipal Athletic Federation's softball titles here and the Mexican Colony won a hotly-disputed decision over the Coachella Valley Telephone Company.

BILTMORE TO PLAY YUCAIPA TONIGHT ON RIVERSIDE FIELD

Biltmore Hotel softballers journey to Riverside tonight for the second round in the district playoffs of the Southern California Municipal Athletic Federation Minor League.

Biltmore, winner of the Desert Softball League crown for the second straight year, meets Yucaipa at 8 p.m. at Riverside's Evans Park.

At the same time Indio's Massy Rock and Sand faces Mona's Inn, from San Bernardino, at the Polo Grounds here. Winner of the week-long playoff schedule plays in the Southern California finals at Riverside.

The call—which came in the eighth inning of a scheduled 7-inning game—resulted in the ejection of two CVSL players from the game.

THE EIGHTH frame began with the score knotted at 1-1.

There appeared to be little question on the call and plate umpire Don Stone first jerked his right hand aloft—the signal for an out. He then flattened both palms and signaled the runner safe.

OBSERVERS in the grandstand at first thought that Nava, who is also manager of the CVTC team, had dropped the ball. But he leaped to his feet and promptly shoved the ball under the umpire's chin.

Stone immediately ejected Nava from the game and when CVTC second baseman Lee Anderson came in to add his voice to the protest, Stone booted him too.

The CVTC team was composed of just 10 men and loss of their catcher and second baseman left them with only eight players. The umpire did not indicate whether the game was considered a forfeit.

NAVA SAID HE would protest the game but later withdrew the protest when informed that the incident involved a matter of judgment, not a ruling.

It wasn't the only imbroglio involving Village umpires. In the fifth inning—when CVTC scored its lone run—umpire Stone halted proceedings and reprimanded Mexican Colony first baseman Joe Lozano for remarking on the calls.

There were other minute brush-ups with the umpires by Mexican Colony's Ray Reyes and by CVTC's right fielder Joe Maddox.

THE EMBROGLIO put an abrupt end to what had been a remarkably fast and well-played game. Frank Prieto of Mexican Colony and Bob Criss of CVTC hooked up in a pitching duel that had a sparse crowd spellbound.

Prieto doled out just six hits and was getting stronger as the game wore on. Criss gave up only five hits but four of those came after the fifth inning.

Wilson Predicts U.S. Victory in Pan-Am Games

By LEO H. PETERSON
CHICAGO (UPI) — The man who will direct the destiny of the United States in the 1960 summer Olympic Games in Rome predicted today the U. S. will win a minimum of 11 of the 27 team titles in the Pan American Games opening Thursday.

"That should give us tremendous impetus toward the games at Rome," said Kenneth L. (Tug) Wilson, president of the U. S. Olympic Committee.

HE ADDED THAT he wasn't counting the U. S. completely out of the other 18 team titles to be decided here.

"All of the competing countries figure their teams are vastly improved over what they had at Mexico City in the last Pan American Games," Wilson continued.

"BUT FROM TALKING to our coaches and other officials I'm confident that this is one of the strongest squads we ever have put together for international competition."

Wilson, basing his predictions from what U. S. coaches have told him, figured the U. S. would win both men's and women's track and field, both men's and women's basketball, yachting, boxing, baseball, men's and women's tennis, and men's and women's gymnastics.

Salt Lake Blanks Phoenix, 12-0 Before 305 'Fans'

United Press International
The Phoenix Giants of the Pacific Coast League came up with a pair of firsts Monday night — recording their smallest crowd of the season and first shutout at home since June, 1958.

Salt Lake City's Jim Baumer and Ernie Francis were responsible for the latter development. Baumer belted a pair of home runs—one a bases-loaded shot—and Francis twirled a five-hitter while leading the Bees to a 12-0 victory.

THE RECENT announcement of the transfer of the Giants' franchise to Tacoma—and the continued apathy of Phoenix baseball fans — must take the blame for the meager turnout of 305.

THE VICTORY KEPT the Bees a half game in front of second-place Vancouver in what has developed into a two-team battle for first place. Vancouver defeated Portland, 7-1, in the only other game played, the rest of the league taking the night off.

Rams, NFL Foes Escape Injuries In Practice Tilts

Apparently most of the National Football League teams came out of last week-end's exhibition play without any serious injuries.

George Halas, Chicago Bears' owner-coach, has stepped-up practice sessions for today and Wednesday before the squad pushes off for Houston, Tex., for a Saturday game with the Pittsburgh Steelers.

HALAS REPORTED his squad in "good shape" after last Saturday's victory over the Philadelphia Eagles at Lynn, Mass.

The champion Baltimore Colts, who whipped the New York Giants in the Cotton Bowl last Friday, were back at their training base in Westminster, Md., preparing for a Friday night game with the Washington Redskins in Baltimore's Memorial Coliseum.

DEL SHOFNER, who suffered a charley horse against the Redskins in Los Angeles last Friday night, will be ready to play again Saturday when the Rams meet the undefeated Chicago Cardinals at Los Angeles.

PALM SPRINGS LANES

Nation's Top Bowlers Aim for Opening Here

Some of the nation's leading professional bowlers will converge on Palm Springs late in October for exhibition matches that will highlight dedication ceremonies of the $1,000,000, 24-lane bowling center, Palm Springs Lanes. The bowling emporium is currently under construction at Palm Springs Shopping Center near the desert resort city's rapidly burgeoning civic center.

In making this announcement at ground-breaking ceremonies, Attorney Harold Simon, representing co-owners Ray Ryan and A. R. Simon, also revealed that negotiations are virtually completed to bring Southern California's No. 1 bowling operator to Palm Springs to run the center under a long-term lease.

THE LEASING arrangements are being conducted by Sid Rice, of Los Angeles' Phillip Lyon Co., exclusive agents for Palm Springs Shopping Center.

The ceremonies launching construction were on the unique side. In place of the customary shovels, two local beauties, Sheila Russell and Gwen Caldwell, took turns tossing a new-fangled blue and white bowling ball at a quartet of new plastic-covered pins.

SITED AT THE intersection of McCallum Way and Farrell Drive, with a main entrance facing the former thoroughfare, the alley is expected to be in full-time operation in mid-November.

The building housing the 24-lanes will be a uniquely styled one-story structure of masonry and steel. Its 25,000 square feet of floor space includes provisions for an anticipated expansion to 32 lanes.

PLANS FOR THE building were prepared by the Los Angeles firm of Mayer and Kanner, A.I.A. It is being built by co-contractors Ernest W. Hahn, Inc. and Leonard Wolf.

Facilities are in line with the Palm Springs Lanes' plan to make its operation a recreation mecca for the entire family. A special room will be used for youth activities and supervision of children will be provided in a spacious indoor-outdoor play area and nursery. An added small fry attraction will be a snack bar.

OTHER FEATURES of the emporium include all-automatic pin-setting machines, carpeted floors, a restaurant, cocktail lounge, banquet room and men and women's locker rooms.

A large area will be lighted at night and made available for teen age dances. This lighting system will be connected so as not to interfere with adjacent property owners.

Decorative features will be native stones on exterior and interior walls, a fountain and a reflection pool. Paved and covered walkways will radiate from beautifully landscaped acres of parking stalls.
